INTRODUCTION

The New River Valley Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) documents the region's economic development program to help continue federal and local partnerships address the economic development of the region. The CEDS process includes analysis, vision, action plan, and evaluation. This process provides a program that helps create jobs, foster a more stable and diversified economy, and improve living conditions in the region.

This annual report summarizes the changing conditions in the region during the FY 09 year. As a regional development strategy, Virginia's New River Valley Strategic Plan (Vision 2020: Community First, prepared in 2003) addresses the planning needs of the CEDS for the Economic Development Administration and the Area-wide Action Plan for the Appalachian Regional Commission. Figure 1 attempts a graphic depiction of the myriad of community and organization involvement necessary for the development of the regional strategic plan. Though no organization has this planning process as their central activity – strategic planning is a collaborative effort with all of these organizations and groups represented and actively engaged.

CEDS emerges from a continuous planning process. This Annual Report of the New River Valley CEDS seeks to document and evaluate the process, effectively updating the CEDS, while responding to the reporting requirements, review, and critique of the previous CEDS for the Economic Development Administration. Rather than a single stand-alone section, evaluation is integrated as a continuous feedback loop in each part of the process and report.

The CEDS Committee includes the Principles of the Investment Policy Guidelines in its project evaluation process. The Guidelines continue to be utilized in the development of CEDS projects.

Included in the FY09 work program was the preparation of the FY 09 major update of Vision 2020. The "new" CEDS, Community First...Regional Partners in a Global Marketplace, was led by the Commission and a Vision 2020 Steering Committee made up of 18 community and civic leaders. This year's (FY10) update was developed based on the goals, objectives, strategies, and projects related to the categories of People, Business/Industry and Employment, Natural and Cultural Resources, and Physical Infrastructure.

ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT

The New River Valley Planning District Commission (PDC) was created in September 1969 by the City of Radford, the Counties of Floyd, Giles, Montgomery, and Pulaski, and the Towns of Blacksburg, Christiansburg, and Pulaski. As key players in the regional economy, Virginia Tech and Radford University joined the Commission in July 2000 along with the Towns of Floyd, Narrows, Pearisburg, and Rich Creek. Twenty-four representatives of these entities make up the Board of Commissioners.

The PDC, as an Economic Development District, continues to serve as the CEDS committee for planning and economic development efforts in the New River Valley region. However, it works closely with several other regional groups that take leading roles in pursuing economic development projects and funding to advance the quality of life in the New River Valley (see Figure 1, page 4). These include the New River Valley Economic Development Alliance, the New River/Mount Rogers Workforce Investment Board, the Partners for Self Sufficiency (an organization formed by the local departments of social services in the region), Virginia's First Regional Industrial Facility Authority, the New River Valley Land Trust, and the Community Foundation of the New River Valley.

This spring, memoranda were sent to all the localities that participate in the New River Valley Planning District (PDC), and to collaborative partners. Each was asked to submit a list of projects that they were working on or considering. Then each group reviewed the status of current projects, and planning for the future. Staff at the PDC compiled the information for this report. The minutes of the CEDS Committee (PDC) meetings that were related to the CEDS are attached in Appendix I. All of the Economic Development District's Board minutes are available on the web at www.nrvpdc.org.

New projects and programs emerged and were refined this year. These are included in this document. In addition to projects, the Goals and Objectives for the Vision 2020 process were updated. The updated Goals and Objectives are on the following pages, and the revised evaluation criteria are included in the Annual Project Package Report Section.

The staff for the CEDS Committee includes Kevin Byrd, Executive Director of the Planning District Commission and Jan Gilbertson, Information Systems Manager.

A list and description of the current CEDS Committee membership, and current letters/resolutions from each of the localities that have participated in and supported the planning process are also attached in Appendices II and III, respectively.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Virginia's New River Valley

VISION 2020

"Community First...Regional Partners in a Global Marketplace"

Updated March 2010

The New River Valley Planning District Commission (Economic Development District) leads the continuous planning process for economic development in Virginia's New River Valley region.

A major update to Vision 2020 was completed in 2003. The process started with a Celebration of the accomplishments in the Region since the 1995 version of the regional strategic planning document was prepared, and "Community First" emerged as a theme. During 2009 the Commission undertook the second major update of Vision 2020. There was considerable concern about the global economy, the decline in manufacturing, and the focus of education. "Community First" continued to be relevant, however it was broadened into a regional context recognizing the need to be both a supplier as well as a consumer in the global marketplace. Vision 2020 has since taken on the title "Community First...Regional Partners in a Global Marketplace".

The Economic Development District works closely with localities and several regional groups that take key roles in pursuing economic development projects and funding to advance the quality of life in the New River Valley. The Goals and Objectives from the 2009 Vision 2020 update were revised in March 2010 and are presented here in the four interrelated categories of People, Business/Industry and Employment, Natural and Cultural Resources, and Physical Infrastructure.

EVALUATION OF PREVIOUS YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

The 2010 Project Package represented the priorities of the region as of June 2009. It is, therefore, imperative to look again critically at that list. First, it is ascertained whether or not the project is still desired by the named agency. If not, it will be dropped from the new list. If the project is still desired (indicated by an "X" in the table), it is evaluated in terms of status (see New River Valley 2010 Annual Project Package Evaluation, page 21). The status categories of "planning, funding, and completed" are explained below. If a project has been completed or is fully funded, it will not be included in the 2011 Project Package.

Planning

Planning, in this instance, is a general term used to indicate ongoing development of a project. This may include any of the following activities:

- ❑ holding project meetings
- ❑ studies including feasibility studies, engineering or architectural reports
- ❑ completion of required forms, permits, processes
- ❑ or any other activity indicating active pursuit of the project.

Funding

Funding is the critical yet often elusive component for bringing a project to fruition. The formal request for funding from Federal agencies is often a two-step process which begins with a pre-application. If the project is viewed favorably, the sponsoring agency is invited to submit an application. A project is considered "Funded" following award notification when grant agreements are completed.

Completed

A construction project is considered "completed" when the construction is entirely finished. A program (non-construction) is considered "completed" when it is implemented.

Explore approaches to expand public/private partnerships:

There are increasing pressures for the development of public/private partnerships to expand the public assistance in providing basic infrastructure to a more active role in the development of corporations. The cost and risk involved in the formation of corporations has entrepreneurs seeking business acceleration assistance from the public sector. Defining and legitimizing this role is requiring innovation in establishing such partnerships.

Education & Training

In the area of Education and Training, the NRV has reached the critical point of needing to support workforce and education development programs aimed at establishing businesses and industries locally. With the economic crisis at the state and federal levels creating great inequities in service delivery, it is crucial that the New River Valley strategic plan for educational advancement be directed at building companies and a workforce for the global economy here at home.

Address the teacher shortage:

Develop incentives in collaboration with local governments, school boards and business sector to attract and retain qualified teachers to this area.

Address education funding:

Seek public/private partnerships and regional collaborations to offset state under-funding of education.

Regional Educational System:

Create New River Valley collaborative model to address alternative, advance placement and adult education needs in the region both physically and through the use of technology.

Health & Human Development

Health and human development put a personal face on the region's approach to supporting its citizens.

Evaluate and Pilot Human Service Delivery Programs:

Using higher education partners in the region, assess service delivery in the New River Valley and develop model for increasing effective and efficient service delivery.

Quarterly Agency/Community Sessions:

Create forum for community and human service agencies to gather and strategize ideas for higher efficiencies in service delivery and agency/client interface.

Natural & Cultural Environment

The Natural and Cultural projects represent the importance our citizen's place on the often intangible aspects of quality of life that can make a place one that people are proud to call home.

Adopt-a-Stream:

Support for state-run program.

Baseline Wildlife & Habitat Inventory:

Build baseline landscape-level wildlife species and habitat inventory for the greater New River watershed.

Citizens' Water Atlas:

Develop a database for water resources, including threats in the watershed.

Compliance Study of Erosion and Sedimentation Control Practices:

Examine compliance rates of erosion/sedimentation control practices.

Erosion Control:

Educate landowners on erosion control and restoration of eroded areas.

Support and Promote Christiansburg Institute:

Assist in funding and program development to support this important historic and cultural asset of the region.

Regional-link Trail System:

Create prioritized map of trail connections to link all alternative transportation pathways in the New River Valley.

Physical Infrastructure

A sound physical infrastructure is the base on which all other projects are built. There are many needs in the area of physical infrastructure including water and sewer as well as technology infrastructure. Beyond these needs, additional concepts for physical infrastructure are listed below.

Bikeway Network:

Plan and create a network of bikeways through the NRV that connects towns, scenic areas, and historic areas.

Regional Civic/Convention Center:

Create event/conference center to provide space for large attractions and events.

EVALUATION: AN INTEGRATED APPROACH

As is apparent throughout this document, evaluation is an integrated part of the CEDS process. Given the continuous nature of this planning process, integration of evaluation into every step is one method of assuring a self-adjusting, constantly “fresh” plan and process. (See Figure 2) Important questions that are asked along the way as part of a feedback loop include:

- ❑ Has the situation changed?
- ❑ Are new partners needed?
- ❑ Do Goals, Objectives, and Projects need to be changed in light of current Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats (SWOT)?

Figure 2:
Evaluation: An Integrated Part of the Continuous Planning Process

This process is followed annually as the CEDS is reviewed and the Annual Reports prepared. Goals and Objectives as well as projects are evaluated.

Evaluating Completed Projects

Following completion of a project, it is desirable to measure the effectiveness of the project and more specifically the return for the money spent. While larger goals such as a diversified economy, higher wages/incomes and improved quality of life are not easily detectable as they may be affected by most single projects, there are measurable related outputs. These include data such as number of jobs created and amount of private investment generated directly and indirectly. Please see Project Evaluations, Appendix IV.

Cautions and Concerns

While this is a straightforward query, answers are not so simple nor easily obtained. These projects do not take place in a laboratory where all external factors are controlled; rather each project is but one small part of countless variables in a huge picture that is the global economy. Moreover, the sum of a program of well-developed, mutually supporting projects is much greater than the sum of the parts.

For example, singularly developing a Regional Educational System to address alternative and advanced placement students needs regionally would not necessarily help incomes or unemployment in the region. Singularly developing a large Commerce Park to attract high tech industry will not help local economies if it sits idle. However, if a well-trained, well-educated work force is developed and physical space and infrastructure is available to high tech firms simultaneously, the likelihood of significant positive outcomes is great. Therefore, a truly integrated economic development strategy with multi-dimensional projects and components cannot be accurately measured in a single dimension. A means of simultaneously measuring relationships and synergies must be developed. A better question in many instances may be, "Is a good new piece of the puzzle now in place?"

Another difficulty in measuring outputs is that the timing is uncertain. In some cases, the greater the potential reward in the end may require a longer timeframe.

One of the most significant limiting factors in evaluation concerns the collection of data. To truly account for the success of a program would require tracking every single action and following that action to its subsequently induced actions and so forth. Even an attempt to keep track of "simple" items such as "jobs created" is a laborious process that takes time away from new project development, administration, etc. Evaluation and assessment is an important part of any project and in order to continue success and progress it must be built into every effort. Understanding the necessity of this effort and making it a seamless part of the project rather than something tacked on at the end is the goal of the integrated evaluation approach.

Lastly and related to the multi-dimensional discussion above, even if time is invested in tracking jobs and investments associated with a project, the data is not necessarily valid outside its immediate context. The whole purpose of a regional strategy is to recognize the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats within the region and to develop a unique program of projects for that situation. Unless the entire program is captured in a multi-dimensional way, the data is not well aggregated to the federal level.

April 26, 2010

Kevin R. Byrd, Executive Director
New River Valley Planning District Commission
6580 Valley Center Drive
Box 21
Radford, VA 24141

Dear Mr. Byrd:

Re: Fiscal Year 2010-2011

Please accept this letter as a Floyd County's expression of support for the New River Valley Planning District Commission's efforts to secure EDA funding for the coming fiscal year. The Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) is vital to the continued economic growth of our region. We are currently updating our list of future projects, and have many economic development needs in the Floyd community and look forward to PDC and EDA assistance with those.

The New River Valley Planning District Commission assumes the lead role in helping this region prepare for the future by planning and promoting economic development including the writing of our region's Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS). I understand the Planning District Commission will be applying to the Economic Development Administration for funding assistance to help continue this vital role as lead planning agency for our region.

The County of Floyd is strongly supportive of this essential program. As we are too small to have a full planning department, the PDC services are the only professional planning organization that we can rely upon. This service to our County is vital for the careful consideration of growth options before the fastest growing county in the New River Valley. The PDC assures that our planning needs are professionally addressed within a regional framework.

The County and I appreciate the services and professional support that is offered by the New River Valley Planning District Commission. If there is anything that the County or I can do to assist you in securing this important grant, please let me know. Again, thank you for your continued cooperation and assistance.

Sincerely,

COUNTY OF FLOYD

Dear Mr. Byrd:

The Giles County Board of Supervisors strongly endorses the economic development planning activities currently being conducted by the New River Valley Planning District Commission. These efforts benefit all the county and municipal jurisdictions within our region and area, which are possible only as a result of the funding support received from the Economic Development Administration.

Giles County is working on several projects that will be beneficial to the overall economic development of the area. Wheatland EcoPark is the development of a unique type of ecologically friendly industrial park in the Eastern portion of the county. All facilities constructed there will meet LEED certification. The first tenant, NanoSonic, will move into the park later this year. This company is a nanotechnology firm that will be locating to a new LEED certified building in this EcoPark. They bring 60 current employees and plan for expansion at this location.

Wheatland EcoPark is also under consideration at this time for the location of an applied science production facility. This business would be an asset and fit into the overall concept of an eco-friendly industrial development.

A replacement of the water tank in the Hoges Chapel area of the county is also underway. This is necessary in order to replace an aging portion of the water system and to upgrade that system to serve the new Wheatland EcoPark development.

Thank you very much for your support of the citizens of Giles County. We look forward to working with you in the future.

Sincerely,

Chris McKlarney

Dear Kevin:

Pulaski County endorses local and regional projects on the enclosed listing as amended.

I would like to thank you and your staff for your efforts to ensure these projects come to fruition. The work you offer in compiling and seeking state and/or federal funding for these projects is certainly a benefit to the County and the region as a whole.

As you and your staff work to update the Vision 2020 Strategic Plan, we need to remember that in the economy that we are presently faced with, the key to the effective use of state and federal funds is the way in which localities throughout our region can work together in partnership with the same goals. The development, distribution and endorsement of this listing is an important part of this process.

Please let me know if you have any questions or comments regarding this endorsement.

Sincerely,

Peter M. Huber
